

The Mark Twain Chapter of the National Classification Management Society (NCMS) and the National Counterintelligence Executive (NCIX) are pleased to announce a one-day seminar at the Eastman Kodak Hawkeye Plant in Rochester, New York on Thursday, 15 May. Networking and registration will begin at 7:30 a.m. The cost for the seminar is $40.00.

The theme of this seminar is Heightened Awareness in the "New Normal." A number of subject matter experts are on the agenda, and each will address a specific topic such as workplace violence (Mrs. Deedee Collins), the role of counterintelligence in counterterrorism (Mr. Byron Sage), information and computer security issues (Mr. Bryan Hurd). The day will conclude with a presentation by the occasionally irreverent Joe Ruffini, the "Information Warrior" from Colorado Springs. All of these speakers are flawless presenters and we guarantee that you will receive "tools of the trade" in order to help you do a better job as a security professional.

The NCMS point of contact for this seminar is Mr. John Waller, Syracuse Research Corporation, 6225 Running Ridge Road, North Syracuse, NY 13210. He may be reached at 315-452-8060 or waller@syrres.com. The NCIX point of contact is Mr. Steve Argubright, who may be reached at 703-874-8674 or stephfa@ncix.gov.
